WELCOME LETTER

Dear Parents,

We wish you a warm welcome as we step into the new academic session 2015 – 2016. The last batch of class X students marked a new era by being the first to write the board exams in the Silver Jubilee year. Every one of us at school, year after year, strive to provide the children with a more structured approach to education which will allow them to take ownership of their own learning and development. We believe that you, as parents, are the first and most important educators of your children and feel that it is important that support in learning is provided at home as well as at school. The most effective way to do this is to encourage your children to read at home. Reading is the underlying factor to success in all areas of the curriculum, if a child can read competently they are already half way there. Reading books will be provided regularly for you and your child to enjoy at home. We hope to move in tandem with all your aims and aspirations you have for your child / children.
